BREED THEATER.

The Violin Maker of Cremona, Feature Motion Picture.

A motion picture of exceptional meest and interest will be shown at the Breed theater this week under the title of The Violin Maker of Cremona, it heing one of the most accurate in detail brilliant in color values, and most perfect from a photographic stand-

Six other pictures, all fine enough to be classed as features, will be shown also making a most extensive bill.

Mr. Al. H. Ousley, the minstrel tenor, who has been heard with so much pleasure this past week, will render the old time favorites this week in as pleasing a manner as he did Silver Threads Among the Gold. An innovation in the bill of Saturday was the splendid singing of Miss Myrtle Miller, who pleasingly rendered Howdy Do. Miss Josephine, to the delighted audience. Miss Miller is on a summer vacation and has just closed a very busy season with the big vaudeville circuits, where she has been singing and glving imitations of Anna Held, singing all of the big hits in French. Miss Miller is scarcely 12 years old and surprises all by her excellent work. other pictures, all fine enough to President Beach has tendered the use of the college dormitories and dinging hall. There will be no charge for rooms, meals will be served at nominal rates. Under these conditions the city, took part. The musical act of the Cynos, somewhat abridged, and the three solos of Miss Hummell were finely rendered and Mr. Burton sung three songs very agreeably.

This week the theater will have some very clever talent to offer. Charles O'Tool has a singing and talking act that takes well everywhere. Irma Le Pamme, the singing comedieune, is an excellent vocalist and renders during her act a number of high grade aperalic selections. Gardner and Golfen, blackface men, have songs, dialogues, and rectations guaranteed to make everybody laugh. Lesle Thurston's xylophone selections are artistic. Wataon, Hutchings and Edwards, presenting. "A Day in a Vaudeville Agency," have the long act of the week. There are five characters in it and every one is an admirable entertainer. ### LETTERS TO THE EDITOR. Protest Against a Legislative Bill.

Mr. Editor:—There is a bill upon which the legislature will be called upon to act in the near future to which the attention of every member about the statention of every member about the "St. John's Industrial School," which has been favorably reported by the committee to whom it was referred. If I understand the matier correctly, this bill proposes to establish an institution similar in purpose to the state school for boys at Meriden, but directly and solely under the control of our Catholic brethren Judges of our courts may commit boys to this institution, but the state must pay the expense of maintaining them there.

This it seems to me is entirely un-

This it seems to me is entirely unAmerican in principle and contrary to the established policy of the state. The state has an established institution at Meriden, approximating something like a half million dollars in value, supported by the state, whose scope is broad enough to admit boys of every creed and nationality and whose management is unsectarian and non-partisan.
The board of trustees being made up of democrats, republicans, Protestants and Catholics. I think it is an admitted fact that a large per cent, of the boys committed to this institution are of foreign descent and have been rearin the Catholic faith, but these boys are allowed to assemble in the chapel of the institution and receive instruction from a Catholic priest. As I understand it, the new institution which the bill proposes to establish is to be nurely, sectarian in character and under direct Catholic control, the state having no supervision over it except through its state board of charities, which may visit our humane institutions and report matters, but which has no power to order direct or control them. Our state provides public schools which are open to every child of achool age in the state, but our Catholic friends prefer to maintain parechial schools of their own over which they can have the entire supervision, which they have done thus far at, their own expense. Now if they desire an industrial school of their own This it seems to me is entirely un-iet them maintain that also at their own expense. I would accord to our Catholic trienda every grivilege enjoyed by any chizen of the state, but if they ignore these privileges and prefer institutions of their own, they should mairrain them without state aid.

Our legislators sneed do some hard and sensible thinking before voting in lavor of this ball. If the bill is passed how long will it be before the state may be asked to establish and support Hebrew and other sectarian industrial schools? How will legislation of this character affect the state institution at Meriden? The present bill is an entering "wedge, cunningly devised and smooth in appearance, but in reality sectarian, un-American, a combination of church and state. Don't drive it.

Desirable Changes in Judicial System Assured—Poultry Meeting of Unusual Interest-Excursion Week.

al interest—Excursion Week.

A resolution amending the charter of the borough court of Stafford Springs has passed the house of representatives. According to the resolution several desirable changes will take place in the judicial system of Stafford and Willington. The court will have jurisdiction of all crimes and misdemeanors committed within either of these towns punishable by a fine not exceeding $250 or by imprisonment in juli or workhouse not more than six months or both. The wretched fee system which has been in operation since the organization of the court officials will receive stipplated salaries. There will be a duly appointed prosecuting attorney, to be named by the judge, who will take the place of the grand jurors. All criminal process must be instituted by the prosecuting attorney or his assistant, and no grand juror shall make complaint of any criminal matter arising within either Stafford or Willington. No justice of the peace shall take cognizance of any action or complaint except in the absence, or mability, of the judge and deputy judge, when a justice may be cited in by the prosecuting attorney, and said justice may exercise the same powers as the judge of the horough court. The cost to the town will not be any more than under the present system, the salaries being based on the amount received in past years. The bill provides that the judge shall receive a salary of $225; the deputy judge $50; prosecuting attorney $50.
